

NATTIE TAYLOR, District Governor of Rotary International, makes his official visit to the Belle Glade Club Friday at the regular noon meeting. Governor Taylor is the first Glades man to be honored with this office. As a student of Rotary and its world-wide influence, Rotarian Taylor has attended all International Conventions held in this country in recent years; he always attends State & District conventions, and is widely known for his ready answers to questions of Rotary practice and custom. His home club is one of the clubs which he must visit officially during his year's tenure of office.

"Operation Teenager" Program At Lions Club

"Operation Teenager," a program designed to help reduce juvenile delinquency by informing high school students and civic groups, was presented to the Wednesday noon luncheon meeting of Belle Glade Lions Club by W. L. McCormick, judicial supervisor of Glades Correctional Institution.

Three inmates, two drug addicts, plus one confined for participation in a robbery in which murder was committed, told how they came to be confined at Glades Correctional Institution.

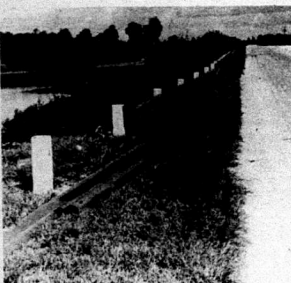

The information program, designed especially for presentation to high school students and civic clubs, is one of two experimental pilot programs being conducted in the state. The one here, and the other at Hialeah, are patterned after a successful program which began in Texas. The program is being tried in Florida upon the suggestion of the Florida State Judges Association and is coordinated under the Florida Council on Crime and Delinquency.

"Operation Teenager" was very favorably received last spring at four high schools in Miami and one at Jupiter, and is scheduled to appear at a number of schools and civic organizations in south Florida this fall.

A group of inmates at a Texas institution, inspired by a strong desire to let other young people know what started them on the wrong path, gave a voluntary report that met with such success that it gained nationwide attention.

The program was brought to the Lions Club as an activity of the Boys and Girls Committee, and was presented by three of the five local workers.

This was the first program to be presented since school closed this spring.

Committee Ready For Boat-A-Cade Due Here Saturday Afternoon

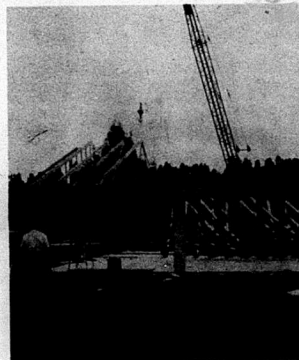

755 Registered Voters On South Bay's List

Belle Glade's voters have two more days — today and Friday 'til 4 p. m. — in which to register for voting in the September 14th city primary, in Belle Glade. On Tuesday at noon there were 2499 registered voters counted at the City Hall. Mrs. Vera Jones, City Clerk, says, "The registration recently has been slow.

The lists have been purged in compliance with ordinances covering this."

In August of '63 a special campaign to have eligibles register, resulted in bringing the total from 1,364 to a total of 2,491, but the purge brought this number down considerably. The Belle Glade races are between: Racey Parrish and the incumbent Aubrey Farmer for the North Borough seat; Davis Kicklighter and jeweler Bill Weathers of the West Borough; Walter Ashley and Bill Bailey for the seat of the Central Borough. "Forward, Belle Glade & Progress" seem to be the platform of all candidates, with no particular question emphasized.

THE ROOF IS ON the pavilion contracted to be built by the City Commission at the Belle Glade Marina. The contractor had eighteen days in which to complete the building so that it will be ready for the Boat-A-Cade from Kissimmee due here September 4th.

With the Pavilion construction on schedule for completion, preparations for a barbeque to feed more than 800, a dance in the new pavilion Saturday night for the visitors, a shuttle bus from the Marina to all motels, and breakfast for Sunday morning, in the hands of functioning committees, Bob Lee announces that "we're ready" to receive the expected "more than 200 boats" from Kissimmee Saturday afternoon.

A group from the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce has gone today to Kissimmee with all-inclusive tickets to assist the visitors, so that there will be definite information as to just how many may be expected.

The caravan will leave Kissimmee Friday, spend the night at some point on the Kissimmee River, come into Belle Glade shortly after noon, and return home Sunday, with the night stop over on the Kissimmee River.

Prescriptions are that a majority of the more than 259 members will make the trip, and it is estimated that an average of three persons per boat will be along.

Cold drinks will be available when the first boats arrive and the booth will be maintained throughout the visitor's stay.

Two More Days To Register

There were 104 new registrants in South Bay's upcoming election to be held on September 7th, next Tuesday, to bring the total to 755.

Corn & Celery Plantings

There are 2425 acres of sweet corn planted in the Glades through Aug. 28th, for a total of 160 percent compared with last season. Celery farmers are 18% ahead of last year, with Oviedo and Sanford near 50% ahead of last year's crop at the same time.

The Glades has 750 acres in the ground against 635 acres the same time last year.

In the last by-election to fill an unexpired term on the City Commission, there were a total of 295, about 40 percent of the present total, who cast their vote. Many predict a vote of more than 500 in the election next Tuesday.

The race for the two vacancies appears to be between two groups — those supporting the "Ins" — Commissioners Kelly and Warren — and those for the "Outs" — former Chief Davis and Woody O'Neal. Managers and Clerks for the election, which will be held in the fire station at the City Hall are: Mrs. Ben Austin, Mrs. Lois Collingsworth, Mrs. Maggie Goodbread and Mrs. A. B. Barnes, as Clerk, and Bernice Beal, Clerk, Marie Campbell, Mattie Banks and Juanita Wilson.

The concrete posts are being placed along State Road No. 80 between Six and Nine-Mile-Bends.

LOUIS DYKES LINES UP POSTS (upper) for the shovel men to fill holes and tamp ready to receive the metal guard rails (left). The rails are along the Hillsboro Plantation road, just south of Six-Mile-Bend.

Youth Week Closes With Banquet Theme: Stairway To The Stars

The theme "Stairway to the Stars" was carried out in the decorations Friday night at the Youth Banquet, climaxing a whole week long of activities held at the Community Methodist Church.

The scene was depicted with stars twinkling over head, and a stairway decorated with dark blue crepe paper on which the words were inscribed, on the steps, Prayer, Obedience, Honesty, Worship, Loyalty, Love and Faith.

The seven long tables were attractively decorated with dark blue crepe paper with white lace paper place

Everglades Memorial Hospital Open House Sunday, Sept. 12

On Sunday, September 12, from 2:00 to 6:00 p. m. citizens of the Glades area will have a chance to inspect their new hospital in Pahokee. Open house will be held during those hours, and all citizens are invited to come out and visit the new Everglades Memorial Hospital.

Located on Barfield Highway in Pahokee, the new hospital is now complete in every detail except for installation of the incinerator. When it is installed, which should be within the next few days, the hospital is ready to begin patient service. The hookup with the new sewer system is complete, and while there is no definite date set yet for moving into the new facility, it will be in the very near future.

At the open house there will be sufficient personnel (Continued On Page 16)

Hundreds Visit Hospital At Sunday's Open House

"The REALLY Big welcome is to YOU, the citizens of this area — stretching from the western County line, thru Lake Harbor and on to the corporate limits of Runyan," Board Member Ed Lively told a crowd of several hundred in his address of welcome at the formal "Open House" held Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m. by the Glades General Hospital.

Prof. Charles McCurdy of the Lake Shore High School Dr. James A. Gray, Chief of the Medical Staff and Mrs. I. L. Price, Treasurer of the Ladies Auxiliary replied to Mr. Lively's welcome.

Board Chairman, Herman L. Close introduced distinguished visitors.

The Address of the Day was given by Representative Emmett S. Roberts who outlined the history of the hospital, and predicted the constant demand for "more and larger" facilities, as the community grows. The community was praised for its initiative in following through and the Board praised for its indefatigable pursuit of "the best money available could get."

Mrs. Abby Zumpf Board Vice-Chairman performed the ceremony of cutting the ribbon, assisted by members Lee Berryhill and Harold Rabin.

A score of members of the Auxiliary uniformed in pink, conducted the visitors through the hospital and explained features of the new equipment and facilities.

Refreshments were served by the Pink Ladies, before visitors were released.

Registration

With reports from the twelve schools in the South Glades, there appears to be 4,806 who have registered so far.

Customarily these figures will rise substantially within the next sixty days, when vacationists have returned, and the farm workers who are finishing their jobs in states north of here will have returned.

John Armstrong, (left) Vice President, In-Charge of Florida Operations and General Counsel LeRoy Denman, of the King Ranch discuss the virtues of the five-months-from-planting St. Augustine grass on the Big B Ranch.

"John, I wish you would take my herd of heifers I have in Duval County and run them here," LeRoy Denman said to John Armstrong.

These gentlemen were among the half dozen officials of the King Ranch in Texas, who visited the joint operation with Big B on over 30,000 acres of Gladeslands.

Editorials

AS THE TWIG IS BENT

YOUNG THUGS AND TEENAGE CRIMINALS may be pressing their luck by increasing their violent escapades while blaming society for their faults.

It appears that the public is beginning to gag on the steady sociological diet of bxcusing the conduct of teenage hoodlums because "society has failed them." Resort communities racked by senseless riots and citizens who cannot venture from their homes without being assaulted and beaten are getting fed up with pampered and insolent young gangs.

Some courts in the troubled areas are taking a more realistic approach in handling those involved in these outbreaks. New laws providing stiffer penalties are being enacted in a few places. We can only hope that authorities everywhere will follow this trend. Certainly, the mere desire of young miscreants to have a "blast" or to "let off steam" is no excuse to ravage a community and to maim and terrorize its residents.

That holiday riots and similar antics by carousing youth have evoked widespread concern is not surprising. It is surprising, however, that strong public reaction did not come sooner. For several years, the increasing volume of criminal acts by young people—spurred on by the lenient treatment received—has presented a clear barometric reading of what we are now witnessing. For instance, from 1960 through 1964, the percentage of young age-group arrests for homicide, forcible rape, aggravated assault, robbery, burglary, larceny, and auto theft more than doubled the population increase percentage of the same group. Arrests of persons under 18 for simple assault rose 79 percent, drunkenness and related violations 52 percent, disorderly conduct 18 percent, and concealed weapons 17 percent during the same 5 years. In the light of this shameful picture, we cannot say that we were not forewarned.

The immediate objective, of course, is to put a stop to these rumbles and mass vandalism. Meanwhile, the question puzzling most people is what caused the principles and morals of some of our youth to degenerate to near animal level. Recognizing the problem comes much easier than its solution. However, of all the factors involved, I am convinced one of the most damaging is the false teaching which tends to blame society for all the frustrations, woes, and inconveniences, real or imaginary, visited upon our young people. Teenagers, and their parents, have been subjected to a foolhardy theory which convens rebellious conduct against authority, law and order, or any regulatory measures which restrict their whims, wishes, desires, and activities. This astonishing belief has spread into the schoolroom, the living room, the courtroom, and now into the streets of our Nation in the form of wild, drunken brawls.

No doubt, society has failed our youth, but not in the way many men to think. Rather, the dereliction has been in the failure to teach them the meaning of discipline, restraint, self-respect, and respect for law and order and the rights of others. Consequently, this lesson now is both painful and costly.

John Edgar Hoover, Director (Reprinted from the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin, September, 1965)

THINK

FIFTEEN YEARS TO DIE! It was an obituary that really let you thinking:

"Local man, age 36 dies after 15 years in hospital, following auto accident in which he was totally disabled."

Fifteen years of staring at the same ceiling; 180 months of complete dependence upon others; 780 weeks of hope erosion, with expenses towering to crowd everything else off the skyline; 5475 days of waiting for the night; 5475 nights of waiting for the day;

131,400 hours of four walls, flowers fading, medicinal smells, useless sympathy;

7,844,000 minutes of vegetation with roots withering in hopelessness, spirit shrinking in stagnation; 473,040,000 seconds of death before burial; and probably because of some "little" fault that you might be committing every day of your driving life. Such as failure to glance left and right, or forgetting to check your rear-view mirror. Squeezing one more trip out of bald tires. Crowding the car ahead. Leaning on luck in a blind spot. Trying to average 60 on a 50-mph road, or in 50-mph conditions. Or just plain, assumption that the other driver will do the right things.

Death at 36 after 15 years of dying! Within that period of time man usually marries, has a family, climbs upward in the world, travels, plays, begins to mature, enjoys a million sights, sounds, sensations.

Over these same 15 years, this man was a castaway on a lonely bed — in land. He absorbed tasteless food, slept a desperate sleep, suffered, cursed, cried, felt the bitterness kink his insides into knots at such ordinary sound as laughter, free footsteps and hearty talk.

For every person who dies in traffic smashups, many others spend agonizing weeks, months, life-times of disability.

You risk this as well as a quick ending when you commit those "little" driving errors. Do you realize this? Do you know what errors are yours, and what you must do to correct them?

"That man might live — to enjoy life — is the reason for SAFETY."

SLOW-DOWN AND LIVE

Uncle Dan From Doolie Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellers at the country store has backslid and Saturday night come out 100 per cent again. They was for it at first on account of they figgered the handouts would start at the better end and they might get a slice of the pie. But now, they allowed, it was plain they was running this project upside down and was sweating at the top and would run out of money long afore they get down to the pore folks.

First off, Ed Doolittle reported he had saw in the papers where teachers for the anti-poverty program in New York City was drawing $250 for a 25-hour week. This movement was bound to spread, perdicted Ed, and at $10 a hour the teaching perfersion would soon be cured of poverty. In the same place, said Ed, it reported nurses for the program in some parts of the country was now getting $9 a hour. That, claimed Ed, would eventual take care of the nursing perfersion.

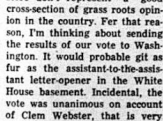

And Zeke Grubb reported he had saw where Government agencies was spreading out their surveys, investigations, public polls and studies so's they could take on several thousand workers and get 'em off the poverty list. For instant, said Zeke, he was reading where the U. S. Public Health Service has made a survey amongst 7,000 men and wimmen from 18 to 79 to see which had the broadest beam. He said the official name of the project was "Operation Good Bread." And according to Zeke, they found the average woman had four-tenths of a inch more seating capacity than the average man. Zeke told the fellers he was discussing this with his old lady and she claimed it wasn't worth a dime on account of it didn't say if the wimmen was with or without rirdies. Anyhow, claimed Zeke, it probablie took a heap of people to make the survey and got 'em off the poverty circuit. He said he was looking any day now for 'em to start taking the national census ever year instead of ever 10.

Josh Clodhopper reported he had took note where President Johnson's brother-in-law, a fellow named Antonio Taylor, was now touring South America for $75 a day and expenses as a "consultant." Josh was of the opinion this "consultant" business would open up a heap of new opportunities for the poverty folks.

I ain't too shore, Mister Editor, but what the fellers at the store don't represent a good cross-section of grass roots opinion in the country. Fer that reason, I'm thinking about sending the results of our vote to Washington. It would probablie get as far as the assistant-to-the-assistant letter-opener in the White House basement. Incidental, the vote was unanimous on account of Clem Webster, that is very outspoke for the Great Society, was absent Saturday night.

Yours truly,

Uncle Dan

The Old Timer

Knowledge comes from taking things apart, wisdom from putting them together.

-AND ALL FOR ONE!

LABOR DAY, 1965

Labor Day is everybody's day—for almost everybody does some physical or mental toll, bodily or intellectual exertion. It may be the newspaper delivery boy making his daily round in the neighborhood. It may be a typical mother's day, where the 40-hour work week is unknown. It may be a composer working on a symphony. It may be the worker of the military sweating-out the insect-infested swamps of Viet Nam.

When Labor Day was first celebrated in New York in 1882 under the sponsorship of the Central Labor Union, it became the day set aside for commemoration by organized labor.

However, today, Labor Day, in a broad sense, is dedicated to all those in the work force, skilled and unskilled, white collar and blue, educators, artists, and members of all the professions.

Labor, of course, is not limited to brawn alone. Labor of the mind is exemplified by the men of science; labor of the spirit is epitomized by the religious, and labor of the heart is personified in the work of medicine and social service, among others.

Therefore, let us pause during Labor Day in tribute to the opportunity in America for physical, mental and spiritual work, the responsibility each entails and above all else, the pleasure to be derived from work that is well-performed.

You Pay The Bill

In these days, federal, state and local taxes take the cream from the earnings and savings of the average U. S. family.

The total tax bill today is a major problem for the head of a family. It must be paid ahead of groceries, clothes, home payments, doctor bills and everything else. It can be no other way. Governments can't run charge accounts for individuals.

Near confiscatory taxes have been brought about by the people themselves. They vote for candidates for office and for public officials who promise them all manner of luxuries for which the various levels of governments, local, state and federal, have no money to pay.

There is only one place for governments to get money and that is from the people. The more the people seek to get from their governments, the higher will go the taxes they have to pay. It is as simple as that.

The people will get no tax relief from governments as long as they swallow the Santa Claus bait of "something for nothing" from the tax spenders. For every handout promised, they will pay through the nose.

If you think federal "gifts" come free, think again—you will get the bill in some old or new form of taxation.

Only YOU can control your tax bill and mounting inflation by using YOUR vote to restrain extravagance in governments and tax waste of your earnings and savings.

Remember that the bill for all Santa Clause gifts from governments goes to you with your tax statement.

A Book Speaks Out

Between my covers you will find the headaches, the passions, the dreams, the struggles and aspirations of mankind. I bring you laughter and tears, amusement and learning, gaily and solemn.

The ancient past, the fleeting present, the marvels of the future, all are inscribed upon my leaves. At your will, I can transport you to ancient cities which have been wholly destroyed, or project you into the vastness of the unborn future.

To kings and emperors, statesmen and sages, I speak in the same accent with which I address the outcast and pariah. My courtesies and kindnesses are extended to all allies; nor am I influenced by race, creed, color or social distinctions.

What man has printed leaves all else is written within me. The thoughts for which man risks his life, the discoveries wrought by scientists with incredible toil and disheartening years of struggle, the vibrant lines written with the heartblood of an unrecognized poet, the revelations of prophets to ancient and all are part of my vast board.

Many have feared and hated, loved and honored me through the centuries. I have lacked nothing, I have shaken the very foundations of society. I, times mentioned, I will live forever, for it is not given to man to efface me.

I am a book; the friend, entertainer, servant, and guide of man. I wait upon your pleasure; I am yours to command.

By the Old Timer

From Elvira M. Henry, Plainville, Michigan: I remember when winds blew, snow was in the air, and the thermometer low, the old fireplaces and early wood stoves were no less efficient than the modern-controlled heaters.

Log houses always needed chimney sweeps to get the soot out. With cold licks and warm fronts, we often went to bed to find warm under grandma's nice wood-bait quilts.

Children took round the dinner pails, with a simple lunch that froze on the long walk to school. We warmed up at school lunch then. Footwear consisted of long, heavy, black, fleece-lined button shoes, but no school shoes.

Men wore heavy socks and rubbers. The socks were of thick felt. Men wore these all day cutting wood with hand saw, ice or two-man cross-cut saw.

Neighbors gathered to cut ice blocks from a pond, in store to be sawed in ice house. Homemade ice cream was great and snow mer. A one-horse sleigh would get the ice blocks to the ice house, powered by a horse wearing sharp "corbs" on his shoes to provide footing on the ice.

A sleigh ride to church, after the long winter chores were done, meant that a two-horse sled loaded was made ready with blankets and skin robes on a "bed" of straw. Nylons had no place then.

Love, My Motive For Soul Winning

Read Philippians 4:4-9

Whatever things are true . . . honest . . . just . . . pure . . . lovely . . . if there be any virtue . . . think on these things. (Philippians 4:8)

A young lieutenant, ready to go to the battlefield, was told by his officer: "You will be in situations which now I cannot warn you of, nor can I tell you how you should act under these circumstances. At the critical moment you will probably be able to act more wisely than how we could possibly foresee."

God's battles against sin and ignorance depend on the creative acts of those who love him. He has promised us that the Holy Spirit will be our guide. When we ask him, He guides us in what is best for us.

Today the spreading of the gospel will be slow and partial if we do not count on poet and dramatist, composer and musician, painter and sculptor, as well as minister, evangelist, and prophet.

The Bible does not underline the virtues of all possible vocations, but it assures us that God approves those which do not violate the teachings of Jesus Christ. Persons dedicated to God, whatever their vocations, strengthen the spirit of all who are working to spread the gospel.

PRAYER: O God, we are Thy creatures, possessed of talents Thou hast given us. Grant us abundant guidance in their development and use. We ask in the name of the regenerating Christ, Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

God's plan calls for our talents to be used in His service.

Rev. Schoech Is Speaker At Dedication Services

The Education Building of St. Peter's Lutheran Church was dedicated to the glory of God in a special service Sunday afternoon, August, the 28th. The principal speaker for the service was the Reverend Walter Schoech, pastor of Redeemer Lutheran Church, West Palm Beach. His sermon text was 2 Timothy 3: 15, 16, which emphasized the importance and desirability of a Christian education. St. Peter's hopes to realize these benefits of such an education by utilizing the new building for Sunday School, Bible classes, meetings, socials, and Kindergarten.

The Dedication began with a worship service in the Church, and then the congregation proceeded to the front of the Education Building. There the contractor, Stuart H. Fuller, handed the keys to Ferdinand Duda, a trustee of the congregation, who then gave them to Reverend R. Y. Roseman, pastor of St. Peter's. The service concluded inside the building with a hymn, Pastor's address prayer and Benediction.

Following the Dedication service, a fellowship supper was served by the Ladies of the Church, utilizing the new kitchen facilities. A film-strip, "Children - Handle With Care," which described the Educational policies of the Lutheran Church was shown to the congregation.

St. Peter's Lutheran Church would like to express its sincere gratitude to the following for their donations: Mr. John Morrison, Mr. J. A. Lavender of the Glades Enterprises of Pahokee, Ehol - Collins Plumbing and Electric, Charles Greer, A. Duda and Sons, Stuart H. Fuller, Sunshine Sod Company, and the members of the congregation.

Gulf Stream Council Names "Show-An-Do" Committee

C. M. "Mac" Gaskins, Scout Executive of the seven-county Gulf Stream Council, Boy Scouts of America, announced this week that the Council's fourth annual "Show-An-Do" committee has been named. The "Show-An-Do" is scheduled for Saturday, October 9.

General Chairman of the 1965 Show-An-Do is M. E. Gruber, West Palm Beach. Assisting Gruber on the Show-An-Do Committee are Mike Maciek, Jr., and Tony Carotenuto, Delray Beach; William Wagner, Vero Beach; Robert Henning, James Brower, George Michael, J. W. Adair, Dr. J. P. O'Callaghan, and Buddy Marquis, West Palm Beach; Bob Kelsey, Hobe Sound; Frank Hoffer, Ft. Pierce; Russell Douglas, Boca Raton; Ed Epp, Boynton Beach; Rex Lewis, Belle Glade; and W. C. Haas, Jupiter.

The Show-An-Do is a program of seeing a variety of scout skills demonstrated (Show) and then actually practicing these skills (An-Do). Gruber stated that because Scouters are anxious to "put their best foot forward," they are hesitant to try new boy-level skills in front of their Scouts. For this reason the Show-An-Do is open only to adult Scouters, including Scoutmasters, Committeemen, and especially to Scout Dads not presently registered with a unit.

The Show-An-Do committee is composed of adult Scouters who have completed the rugged 8-day outdoor "Wood Badge Course, considered to be the "PhD of Scouter Training." At the conclusion of this training, each Wood Badge member a pledge to return to his home town and use what he has learned in training other adult leaders. The annual Show-An-Do is the Wood Badge's answer to this pledge.

More Time For You

It has been said that time is our most unsympathetic enemy. Certainly, time passes relentlessly giving us only 24 hours a day to accomplish our many activities. How to find time to do all the things you need and want to do? There is a way to get greater satisfaction from your day, says Mrs. Betty Woolfe, Asst. Co. Extension Home Economics Agent.

The answer is to manage your time as you would any other precious resource. First, face facts. Consider and determine your problems and goals. Second, observe what you do now. Write it down. Then, study your list. Could some tasks be eliminated, combined, simplified, performed differently or delegated to someone else? Next, make a written plan, including the changes you think might work. Try out your plan. Revise the parts that did not work so well. Lastly, evaluate your accomplishments. Are you reaching the goals you have set? If so, you should have more time for you!

Remember, everyone has different values and responsibilities. Thus, time plans must be individual. What worked for you may not work for your best friend.

Some four million children catch measles every year in the United States with about 400 deaths resulting. Serious complications may occur once in every 400 cases. Vaccines now can prevent this illness, even for babies as young as one month.

It Costs $431.40

To Teach Your Child

In PB Co. This Year

It will cost $431.40 to educate the average student in the Palm Beach County school system this school year.

This is a highlight of a leaflet just published free by the county school boards. Department of Publications, Research and Information, entitled "Facts About Your School." An official was quick to point out that the nine mills tax recommended by the board to operate the schools next year will produce $90 from a home having a full market valuation of $15,000.

The publication points out that last year's enrollment was 61,700 and this year is expected to rise to approximately 64,000. Last year's instructional staff was 2,400 and this year will be 2,600. In 1964 there were 2,261 high school graduates and last summer 2,584 graduated from the county's 14 senior high schools.

Local ad valorem millage taxes are expected to raise $20,083,000, but the county school system's current 4,336 employees — instructional and non-instructional — will earn an estimated amount of $25 million during this new school year, and spend most of it in Palm Beach County.

Last year, the county's public school system operated 147 school buses which traveled 15,600 miles a day and consumed an average of 1,300 gallons of gasoline daily.

An average of 45,000 school lunches are served each school day by children who drink one million half-pints of milk a month.

Scholarship Checks Mailed

Governor Haydon Burns mails checks totaling $71,335 from the Haydon Burns Scholarship Foundation to 311 student recipients. The checks represent half the scholarship grant to each student, with the remaining half to be sent as soon as the student completes a semester's work and enrolls for a second semester. Governor Burns announced that the replica balls held in various cities to raise money for the Scholarship Foundation will be repeated next year.

instructed in general business and typing. He holds a B. A. degree from Bethune-Cookman College, Daytona Beach with a major in business education, and an M. A. degree from Wayne University, Detroit, Michigan, 1962.

BILE IT; ROAST IT —

GLADES CORN IS GOOD

Take advantage of golden sweet corn while it is plentiful. The eating couldn't be better.

When you buy corn from the store, be sure it has been kept cold. Natural sugars in the corn will start turning to starch very soon if the corn gets too warm, say home economists with the Florida Agricultural Extension Service.

To prepare old-fashioned steamed corn on the cob, remove the husks and silk, cook as many ears as needed for one serving a piece. You can cook more while the first batch is being eaten. Drop the corn into a kettle of lightly salted, boiling water. Boil gently, covered, for five minutes only. Serve at once with melted butter and salt.

Roasted corn on the cob is a favorite of many because of its delicious taste. Roast it indoors in the oven or outdoors over the coals.

"Continued Progress"

Our bid for re-election as your City Commissioners, is based on our record of contributions to the progress of South Bay.

Kelly's ten years of service as Commissioner includes three terms as Mayor; Warren's four years includes a period of great progress.

We refuse to be drawn into a mud-slinging campaign, as the people of South Bay do not deserve the indignities and abuse which has marked some elections in the past. These have discouraged many well qualified men from seeking a seat on the Commission.

It has been gratifying to us to have many local people, as well as citizens of adjoining communities, to remark on the progress made in the City of South Bay over the past three years.

We feel that a new era has been reached in South Bay — the voters are taking a more realistic view of the candidates, to the point that better government and progress will continue.

A review of the record speaks well.

We have had a phenomenal growth over the past three or four years; in 1962 we had 375 water meters, with sales of $36,000.

In 1965 we have 530 water meters with water sales of $52,000 — an increase of 44%.

New equipment was purchased for $23,979.80; land acquired for $7,000; building $8,503. We owe now only $2,500 on these items, for a net gain in assets of $36,082.80.

New streets were built costing $12,267.56, and thousands of dollars were saved by doing our own work, and in moving, by the use of this equipment.

Have We MADE Progress ?

An examination of the auditor's report shows: Water Department surplus on September 30, 1962 was $43,363.61; on the same date of 1964 (the last audit) the surplus was $55,689.09.

The audit shows that the General Surplus Fund — unappropriated surplus, reserves and investment in fixed assets — increased from $107,646.51 in 1962 to $146,795.12 in 1964, for an increase of $39,148.61.

We were successful in negotiating a Revenue Bond issue for $375,000 to build a water plant, which is now in operation, and property owners will not be taxed to repay this bond issue — the revenue from the operation of the water works pays the principal and interest.

Frankly, we believe that the citizens of this community will endorse this kind of progress and will support

SOUTH BAY -- A Better Community

As a long-time resident of South Bay, a property owner and a tax-payer, and a nine-year intimate association with our City government, I believe I may add some thing substantial as an elected City Commissioner.

My family was reared in South Bay, and most parents will agree that my pride in that family is justified.

Nine years association has given me knowledge of our community's problems, and has taught me things that should be done for it's betterment. I have also learned of many things NOT for the good of the community.

My children have received and are receiving the education offered in the schools of, our community. I have been able to assist, in a modest way, in their higher education.

South Bay is destined for a spurt in growth as one of the better areas of the Glades.

I am offering my regard for my community, my experience in local government, and a promise to do those things that will cause it to become a better community for family life, and to PUSH the progress it deserves.

If you feel that I am capable of aiding this, I will appreciate your vote and support.

This is the first of three shows planned about our Community for Channel 5, which is operated by Scripps-Howard Broadcast- ing Company.

Personality TV Gal - Sip

Taylor — has spent several days in our area preparing this program, which promises to give an insight into "what is going on in our town."

CITIZENSHIP

My conception of CITIZENSHIP is that a resident should participate in Community activities to the extent of his ability.

A family man — and I have four children — finds his obligations more emphasized.

My eighteen years association with the same industry and my experience in a supervisory capacity, calls for planings, assigning men and following through to GET A JOB DONE.

This reasoning suggests that I CAN ADD something to the City Government in South Bay, as a CITY COMMISSIONER!

Therefore, I am offering my candidacy for the position.

I promise only an honest effort to utilize whatever abilities I have, AS A COMMISSIONER, to help make decisions, PLAN and CARRY THROUGH those things that will

MAKE SOUTH BAY A BETTER

Because soil fumigants are expensive, the recommended dosage rates are the lowest found to give satisfactory results. A. J. Overman, assistant soils microbiologist with Florida's Gulf Coast Experiment Station, says that since these rates are marginal, it's important that every step in the use of these chemicals be closely controlled. Failure to do so may result in poor control of nematodes, soil-borne diseases or weeds.

Poinsettias are mostly greenhouse-grown as pot plants for Christmas in most of the United States. But in Florida, R. D. Dickery, ornamental horticulturist with Florida's Agricultural Experiment Station says they are largely used as colorful landscape shrubs.

You Can Get 'Cane Insurance For 1 Year Term

Property owners seeking protection against hurricane damage can buy windstorm insurance under an emergency program approved today by State Treasurer - Insurance Commissioner Broward Williams.

Under the program, home and commercial property owners normally denied windstorm coverage through conventional or other policies will be able to buy one-year protection through their own insurance agents.

What makes the plan work, the Commissioner said, is a provision permitting the company and the property owner to agree on a policy reducing the payment of claims by up to 5 percent.

Coupled with this 5 percent deductible is permission for the company - at the property owner's consent - to increase the rate for the coverage by up to 50 percent. At the same time, agents were warned against abusing the privilege of selling such hurricane insurance.

BY THE SEA, BY THE SEA
by Margie Blake, Carnation Teen Committee

The best of summer parties is the beach party, starting early in the blazing sun, winding up with songs after dusk. The best is the easiest, too: a nice crowd, a good picnic packed by you. At the beach there's something for everybody to do. From the most fervent athlete to the languidest sunbather. Even the chaperones love it; no noise problem with the whole sky the ceiling!

While the sun is high, you'll swim, beachcomb for shells or pebbles, and flop on the sand (or the grassy bank) for sunbaths. And volleyball, softball, or touch football were never like this in P. E. class.

At sunset it's time to eat, and you were a genius to pack such a fine supper and pack it so well. You made a list of the things you'd need (even salt and napkins and beverage can openers); you packed and crushed, and didn't sleep into the food. (Tip: to keep perishables cold, stack the well-chilled soft drinks against them.) The classic picnic menu may be old-hat, but it's still good: weiners to roast if you're permitted to build a fire, do-it-yourself cold cut sandwiches if you're not; potato salad, deviled eggs, little tomatoes.

And finally the music, with yourselves on guitar, banjo, harmonica, and vocal. To nibble on during ten or twelve or twenty verses of a song, hand out Peachy Desert Bars, sweet as they sound. Drain a 17-oz. can, sliced peaches. In saucepan, place peaches, 4 cups seedless raisins, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/4 cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, and 1/4 cup undiluted mixing bowl combine 1 cup brown sugar, 2 cups sifted flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup shortening and 1/2 cup undiluted Carnation evaporated milk. Blend well with hands; place 1/4 of this mixture in a rectangular pan (13" x 9" x 2"). Spread fruit filling over crust and top with remaining crust mixture. Over the top sprinkle 1/2 cup chopped nuts. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 40 to 45 minutes. Cool in the pan on a wire rack. Cut into 24 bars. To insure their safe arrival at the hootenanny, slide the whole pan into a plastic bag. The Carnation Teen Committee, made up of teens in schools across the country, makes suggestions for this column. If you have an idea, or want a Teen Party Idea Booklet, write to CTC, 777 Third Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10017.

READ - That Ye May Know!

Mr. Marvin Davis says that he was "railroaded; we have never heard the whistle blow!

Actually Mr. Davis was suspended, and given a public hearing by the City Commission with his own attorney present.

The charges against him were "repeatedly playing cards in uniform, and while on duty, together with his refusal to desist in allowing an undeputized non-resident of the City to drive the city automobile, and to ride in the car unnecessarily, all in violation of provisions of insurance." Despite several requests to comply, on the advice and warning of the insurance people that the liability of the City was not covered in such cases, this practice was continued.

When his suit for back salary and reinstatement was heard the Judge upheld the dismissal, but found that Mr. Davis was entitled to certain pay.

Mr. Davis' suspension and later dismissal from the service was solely on the charges as preferred and upheld, and the indictment by the grand jury, in no way entered into the action of the Commission.

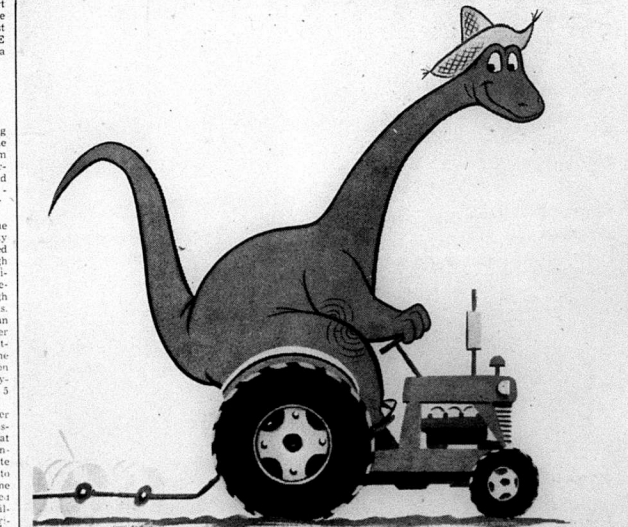

Those members of the Commission who determined their duty and did it, as representatives of the public, have no apologies to make on their action. This statement is made solely for the benefit of South Bay citizens who are not informed. This advertisement is paid for by

OUR YOUTH

I'm not mad at anyone! I have no cure-all for a growing City's problems!

I believe our City has been governed about as well or better, than the average!

BUT — I am offering for the job as CITY COMMISSIONER from the West Borough.

OUR YOUTH ARE THE FUTURE OF OUR COMMUNITY.

We must fertilize their minds and cultivate their capabilities.

I believe that a YOUTH COUNCIL to direct the energies of YOUTH, which we know WILL BE asserted, to producing moral fiber, physical stamnia and worth to the world, is an attainable goal in BELLE GLADE.

I think, not predominantly of economic success, but a well-rounded life of peace, happiness and ability to contribute something to, posterity when they pass on.

With my three, under sixteen, in school, and one lacking two years to kindergarten, the Community's YOUTH are major in my daily thinking.

My service as CITY COMMISSIONER will have been a success, if I can propose and help bring to effectiveness a YOUTH COUNCIL in our community, and add substantially to the list of our YOUTH who are making records of accomplishments in the armed forces, in industry, the arts and sciences.

I promise only that I will devote my best efforts towards whatever daily problems are to be solved by Our Commission.

I will wear no man's, nor organization's collar — but I will devote time and work towards a COMMUNITY PLAN to GUIDE OUR YOUTH.

Control Caloosahatchie Water Is Plan Instead Of Wasting Or Hoarding It!

LARGEST DAM in South Florida is located at Olga on the Caloosahatchie River. Navigation lock at right measures 400 by 56 feet, will pass vessels of 14-foot draft when water elevation is zero downstream of the structure.

A $42 million program to provide year-round water control in the Caloosahatchie River basin, west of Lake Okechobee, has passed the half-way mark after more than four years of construction.

The River (also known as Canal 43) is being widened, deepened and straightened to serve a 1,233-square-mile basin area, according to C. A. (Mutt) Thomas of Lake Harbor, member of the Governing Board of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District. The basin includes most of Glades, Hendry and Lee Counties.

The life and growth of tens of thousands of acres of new citrus and other agricultural crops now being planted in Hendry County, for example, will be sustained and aided by the River project, Thomas said.

Improved irrigation supplies and badly needed flood protection are both primary objectives. In addition, the project will make available a much improved western outlet for regulation of Lake Okechobee by the Army Corps of Engineers.

The largest dam in south Florida was completed in the past year at Olga at a cost of $3.6 million. This structure (designated S-79) stretches 340 feet across the river. It brings Lake Okechobee in effect to the doorstep of Ft. Myers. Prime function of the structure is to eliminate salt water intrusion upstream of Olga. The dam also functions as a spillway when its gates are opened, and it is equipped with a navigation lock measuring 400 by 56 feet.

In the past, the Caloosahatchie River has been salty and tidal as far upstream as the spillway and lock structure (S-79) at Olga, about ten miles east of La Belle.

Earlier in 1965, the River freshened upstream of the S-79 structure, and river water was being used for irrigation for the first time between Olga and Ortona.

Initial construction of the Caloosahatchie Project was started in April, 1961, near Ft. Myers. Since then, dredging of the River has proceeded upstream under one large contract after another.

The total job involves widening and deepening the channel for 43.8 miles from Beautiful Island to Spillway S-77 at Moore Haven. In addition to construction of the new dam at Olga, the Ortona spillway has been modified. Two spillway gates were added at Ortona giving that facility a total of four gates. Another spillway is currently under construction at Moore

In 1953, the Corps estimated that total initial costs of the Caloosahatchie River improvements, would be $38,254,000, but recent FCD and Corps re-estimates indicate the final cost may be closer to $42,000,000.

The entire River project should be completed in late 1968, according to Ed Dail, Executive Director of the Flood Control District. This timetable, of course, as-are designed to give complete flood protection to the entire basin from all storms up to and including those as great as occur only once in ten years. If greater storms occur, flooding will be minimized, and excess water will be removed rapidly.

Local interests must naturally construct necessary secondary canals, pumps, etc., to get rid of excess water into Canal 43.

The new spillway at Moore Haven will approximately double the capacity for discharge of water from Lake Okechobee into the Caloosahatchie River. In the past, the Corps has been able to discharge water only through the boat lock at Moore Haven.

There will be times when the River will be so full of run-off from the great Basin that capacity for Lake Okechobee water will be restricted. However, if a storm occurs that is so great that the River is filled from the Basin, it will be only a matter of a few days before substantial releases can be started from the Lake if needed.

The River project is keyed to other major elements of the 18-county Flood Control District. For example, the plan is coordinated with the enlargement of and extension of the Herbert Hoover DREDGE is widening and deepening the River near La Belle. Pipeline from the ship carries dredged material to spoil area half-a-mile or more distant from river.

Haven under an $825,000 contract.

The FCD is the agency responsible for all local cooperation in the Caloosahatchie Project, and the District provides all necessary lands, easements and spoil areas needed for construction.

The Army Corps of Engineers, however, will retain permanent jurisdiction over the River. It is a part of the Okechobee Waterway, the federal navigation channel between Ft. Myers on the Gulf, and Stuart on the Atlantic Ocean.

After completion of all work, the United States will permanently operate and maintain the waterway and the structures on it. Land titles obtained by the FCD are turned over to the United States in this project, but the District has been working closely with the Corps in planning the design and construction work.

sumes that appropriations from state and federal governments continue at necessary levels.

In capacity the River channel is being approximately doubled in size. At Ortona, prior to improvements, the River under "bank full" conditions could carry a maximum of 8,000 cubic feet of water per second. "It is 3,600,000 gallons per minute. But this caused considerable flooding. Under the improved conditions, the River at Ortona will carry 10 per cent more water but at a level well down within the banks with no flood conditions.

Downstream of the Olga Dam, near Ft. Myers, the capacity of the River is being increased from 8,000 to 40,000 cubic feet per second. The new discharge capacity amounts to 18,000,000 gallons per minute.

While vast portions of the Caloosahatchie Basin have been flooded repeatedly in the past, the improvements ver Dike around Lake Okechobee. Water storage capacity of the Lake will be vastly increased when the dike is finished, expected within the next three years. The River and Lake improvements are also keyed to the $35 million program underway in the 5-county Kissimmee River Basin north of the Lake. The Kissimmee and its tributary lake areas provide the main source of water flowing into Lake Okechobee.

Boats of 54 foot draft will be able to navigate year round from the Lake north 97 miles to the new Kissimmee Waterway all the way to the city of Kissimmee.

Latest plans for future Lake regulation call for levels fluctuating between 15.5 feet and 18.4 feet (above mean sea level). In addition after the hurricane season, if water is available — stages in the Lake will be permitted to rise to elevation 17.5 feet to provide additional water supply and irrigation benefits.

Executive Director Dail explained that discharge of excess water out the Caloosahatchie River and out the St. Lucie Canal should be significantly reduced after the higher lake stages are reached. The Corps presently regulates Lake Okechobee on a schedule fluctuating seasonally between levels of 13 and 15.5 feet (above mean sea level).

As of June 30, 1964, a total of $14,627,227 in federal, state and local revenues had been invested in Caloosahatchie River improvements. This included $10.7 million for construction and $3.9 million for land acquisition, relocations, and related state and local costs. The United States had paid almost $8.6 million of the construction expense.

Since then, major construction contracts have included: (1) dredging of the River from Denaud to La Belle, a two-year job started in December, 1964, cost,

AT MOORE HAVEN, near shore of Lake Okechobee, a new spillway is being added to existing hurricane gate and boat lock pictured here.

$2,168,000; (2) the new spillway at Moore Haven, started in February, 1965, and due to be completed in June 1966, cost $824,963; (3) widening and deepening the River from La Belle to Ortona, a two-year contract, awarded in July, 1965, cost $1,502,340.

The city of Ft. Myers is looking to the Caloosahatchie River for fresh water supplies. Water tables there have been declining in recent years. Problems in the city wellfield have reportedly been growing serious.

It is predicted that the present year-round residential population of 29,000 will double in the coming decade.

One engineer, Jose Ignacio

Garcia Bengochea (of the engineering firm of Black, Crow and Edmessa), testified to the Corps of Engineers that a new source of water "must be found" for Ft. Myers; that "the Caloosahatchie is the logical source." He predicted a city demand of 9.76 million gallons daily by 1970 and 20 million gallons daily by 1980.

Early records of flooding in the Caloosahatchie River Basin are scanty, but it is known that serious flooding occurred in the most severe flood of recent record in the basin. Lowlands along the River were overflooded, and flooding of the poorly drained lands away from the River persisted for weeks.

Considerable flooding was experienced in Moore Haven as well as La Belle where out the year. Annual totals included 73.83 inches at La Belle and 71.25 inches at Moore Haven. Those amounts exceeded the annual normals of 49.28 inches at La Belle and 49.85 inches at Moore Haven by almost percent. Hurricanes of September 17 and October 11 brought additional intense rainfall to the area & resulted in the most severe flood of recent record in the basin. Lowlands along the River were overflooded, and flooding of the poorly drained lands away from the River persisted for weeks.

Considerable flooding was experienced in Moore Haven as well as La Belle where houses and streets were flooded and septic tanks inoperative. The frequency of that flood is estimated as one in 30 years.

PIC NO. 4

The flood of 1948 was somewhat less severe than that of 1947, although the peak stage of 15.4 feet at lower Moore Haven gage was the highest of record since removal of the old lock system. Conditions were aggravated by the hurricane of September 21-22 which brought about ten inches of rainfall to the basin. The resulting flooding was general over the entire basin, but the duration was less than that of 1947. The frequency of that flood is estimated as one in ten years.

Future benefits of the improved Caloosahatchie have been predicted at an average of $1.7 million per year. This includes $970,000 per year in reduction of flood damages; $535,000 per year in additional land development; and $232,000 in reduction of drought damages.

• The cost of fires in the United States exceeded $1.6 billion last year, National Fire Protection Association figures show.
